

Privacy Policy

By Booking for one or more of our events and services you agree to the privacy policy below and our terms and conditions.

1. Your personal information

When registering for a Cloud Events product or service you will first have to create a user profile with your name and email address. Thereafter the following personal details are required to register for a specific event (you will have an opportunity to choose which information is shared with potential matches):

- First name
- Surname
- Email address
- Contact telephone number.
- Place of residence
- Gender
- Dating preference
- Date of birth

By registering with Cloud Events, you give permission for Cloud Events to keep you informed of your booked event and upcoming events and offers you might be interested in.

2. The use of cookies

The website uses cookies you can disable these in settings of your browser.

3. Processing of your personal data

By using Cloud Events' services, you acknowledge that third party service providers of Cloud Events will be able to access your personal data to provide the service to you. All service providers are compliant with international personal data protection law.

Cloud Events will never pass your personal information on to a 3rd party without your permission.